

Gaming app: Jagaimo - Hug a potato!

Cuteness just got even cuter:

Jagaimo the kawaii potato is here!

Have you ever heard of the saying “Sorry for the long post, here’s a potato!”? – Let me introduce you to Jagaimo, the world’s most sorry feeling potato

Jagaimo is so sorry for every single post on the worldwide Internet that was either too long or - even worse - not worth the read. As you can imagine, this is a huge burden on the shoulders of a potato considering all those trillions of social media posts, forum posts and direct messages! That is why even potatoes now and then need a helping hand to calm down and relax.

And this where the players of this app come in! It is their task to take care about this ever so sorry potato Jagaimo so that Jagaimo can continue to be the face and excuse for long and even boring posts.

All that is needed are hugs, hugs and even more hugs! And all of these hugs are right at your fingertip – tap Jagaimo to give a hug and watch Jagaimo smiling! Even the whole world will evolve and come to life. It is as rewarding as far as rewards can go!

Jagaimo – who is this?

Although Jagaimo feels ever so sorry, this potato is not from Canada. Jagaimo is a kawaii potato from Japan, coming from the "Land of the Yasai (Vegetables)". There, Jagaimo lives with all its friends: Francis the French fry, Ike the Orange, Kelly the ketchup and Eda the Edamame bean! They all love to be around Jagaimo and Jagaimo loves to be around them.

Jagaimo is not a talker but still its voice will make you melt like cheddar cheese on a barbecue wrapped in bacon!
